Tutor - John Harrad

A look at the world of watercolour. We shall explore the uses and the range of watercolours and with a step by step approach explore the techniques needed to be successful in this medium.

This course is designed for the nervous novice as well as the more experienced. You will be surprised at what you can achieve!

Students will need a small range of decent brushes and a set of watercolours, and a pad of watercolour paper. Advice will be given about these items on the first meeting and you can buy the recommended art material at the class. However, you can bring your own material if you have any.
